Youths to Register At Fire Stations

Regular Selective Service Official at Post Office Discontinued

Youths who become 18 and eligible for induction into military service will register from now on at one of three city fire stations, it was announced this morning by Dr. Joseph H. Rosenberg, chairman of Local Board 18.

This arrangement was made by the board, he said, through the cooperation of Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy who sanctioned the use of the fire stations in three different areas of the city to make it convenient for registrants.

The stations are:
Downtown—Cornell station, Abel street.
Central Kingston—Central station, East O'Reilly street.
Uptown—Willwyck House station, Fair street.

Chairman Rosenberg said the fire house registration because the regular office of Local Board 18 has been discontinued in the central post office.

He made the announcement after a meeting this morning at which he presided over a session attended by other members of the board, Dr. Robert K. Pless, Attorney William Grogan, the Rev. William Peckham and Col. John Megher.

Walter Dutcher, who served as clerk of Local Board 18, has been transferred to Rockville Centre, L. I.

Fifteen Killed In Bus Crash

Bloomington, Ind., Aug. 10 (AP)—Fifteen persons died in the flaming wreckage of a Greyhound bus that burned after smashing into a bridge abutment near here early today.

None of the dead has been identified.

The bus, bound from Indianapolis to Bloomington, hit the bridge on a winding, hilly road shortly after midnight. Seconds later it was in flames.

Coroner Robert W. Lyons of Monroe county said 15 would be the death toll.

Twelve other persons were injured in the crash and are in a Bloomington hospital.

The bodies were brought to the Indiana National Guard Armory here to await identification.

Driver Wayne Cramer of Indianapolis, one of the survivors, said a front tire may have blown out, causing him to lose control of the bus. After striking the abutment it skidded 150 feet down winding Highway 37 and came to rest on its left side, blocking the emergency door.

Flames enveloped the vehicle immediately. The driver said he and "two or three" passengers got out the front door. The other survivors escaped through a rear window which a passenger kicked out.

A Greyhound spokesman in Indianapolis, who declined to permit use of his name, confirmed that there were 37 passengers on the bus when it left Indianapolis for Bloomington.

Glen Van Horn, manager of Station WFTS in Bloomington, said one of the survivors told him "walked through five feet of flames" to get off the bus. The bus was still smoldering two hours after the wreck. The center section was burned down to a mass of twisted metal in which charred bodies could be seen. A Bloomington fire truck laid a line to muddy Fork Creek, near the scene, and pumped water into the fire.

Bloomington, seat of Indiana University, is about 60 miles southwest of Indianapolis.

Nation Has New Quake And Looting

Fear and Panic Spread Among Survivors of Earthquake; Death Toll 6,000

Workers Buried Big Landslide Falls Upon Cleanup Crews Near Pelileo

Quito, Ecuador, Aug. 10 (AP)—New earth tremors and pillaging by unruly Indians spread fear and panic today among the thousands of survivors left homeless by Ecuador's destructive earthquake.

Official government estimates of the death toll in Friday's quake rose to 6,000. But the truth is no one knows for sure how many perished in the great piles of rubble that litter some 50 demolished towns in the populous Andes mountain region south of here.

Fresh tremors yesterday tumbled weakened walls in Ambato and other cities, adding to the terror of some 150,000 homeless.

Groups of workers attempting to dig their way through the blocked highway to Pelileo, 100 miles south of Quito, were recently buried under a landslide loosed by the new tremors.

Shooting orders were issued to troops guarding Pelileo against looting by the wild tribe of Salasaca Indians. Defense Minister Manuel Diaz Granados said one band of Salasacas had been driven off when caught ransacking the ruins.

Continuing landslides and sulphurous fumes oozing from jagged crevices have terrorized the countryfolk who escaped the worst effects of the shocks.

This correspondent flew over the area yesterday to Ambato with some of the U. S. Air Force transports helping out in the "little airlift" which is dropping food and medical supplies to isolated towns.

Pelileo, a town of 3,500 population, resembles a barbed wire dump surrounded by bright green grass and trees. Not a house escaped damage. Block after block is a jumble of adobe walls and bamboo poles.

Clouds of dust still hung over many areas which have had no rain.

The road from the dirt airstrip outside Ambato, a provincial capital of 35,000 population 50 miles south of Quito, was lined with men, women and children sitting dazed and staring into space.

Tells of Summons

Housing Expeditor Tighe Woods (above) tells a Senate investigating committee in Washington that Maj. Gen. Harry H. Woods Says He Was Asked to Rush Permit for Track

Housing Expeditor Tells Senate Group Vaughan Made Request for Tanforan

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—Housing Expeditor Tighe Woods said today he recalls that Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan asked him to "hurry" along a construction permit for the Tanforan race track.

Woods told a Senate investigations subcommittee that Vaughan, President Truman's military aide, came to his office Jan. 12, 1948, to make the plea. He said Vaughan posed its feasibility as "some of my friends" were interested in the case.

Woods previously had told the subcommittee only of being called to the White House Jan. 9 last year by Vaughan to discuss the Tanforan matter. He quoted Vaughan as telling him at the White House meeting that "some of my friends" were interested in the case.

Woods said that at the meeting three days later he believed that Vaughan asked him to "please hurry" along the permit because there was "something" before the California Race Track Commission which would make Tanforan lose its franchise if the construction work could not proceed.

Woods sent letters to the Justice Department the next day urging modification of a court order issued against the former owners of the track to stop construction.

Meanwhile, the White House again said that Vaughan has Mr. Truman's permission to testify in the committee's so-called "five percent" inquiry if the senators want him to do so.

Presidential Secretary Charles Ross said he had "no comment" concerning testimony linking Vaughan's name with the Tanforan race track matter.

When a reporter recalled that the President told a recent news conference that Vaughan has his permission to testify, Ross said that "still applies."

Committee Chairman Hoyer (D-N.C.) said his group is especially interested in getting all the details as to why the Tanforan track finally got government blessing for the construction after approval had been denied repeatedly.

County Asks More Nurses For Polio Work

The county Health Department today requested the services of more nurses to treat polio victims as the 18th case of the disease was reported.

Dr. Robert H. Broad, county health commissioner, said that three nurses have been steadily on duty for about a month treating patients and others are now needed as relief nurses.

Meanwhile, the 18th case reported was the second from Sullivan county brought here for hospitalization, and which was later scheduled to be sent to New York. The six-year-old boy, health authorities said, is from the Sullivan county area near the Ulster county line.

The two sisters from the Accord area and their cousin are still under treatment at Kingston Hospital. The condition of the sisters was described today as "good," and that of the cousin as "fair."

One of the two adult cases, a woman resident of the county, was reported as "doing well." The other adult case was sent back to the metropolitan area.

A recent statement by the Health Department said that "None of these cases have occurred in any village or city in Ulster county," indicating that all were from outlying rural areas.

Dr. Broad stressed, meanwhile, in issuing his call for extra nurses, that any nurse interested may contact Mrs. Walter Brown of the Red Cross nursing recruiting committee by telephoning 2627.

President Signs Unification Bill

Income Is Ahead Over 1948 Period

Consumers Received 2.6 Per Cent More in First Half of '49, Figures Reveal

Farms Play Part Higher Receipts Credited in Part With Gains in Nation

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—Incomes of consumers ran 2.6 per cent higher in the first half of this year than in the same period of 1948, when the boom was in full swing.

Retail buying power thus was fattened by the flow of income to people—as distinguished from corporations—at an annual rate of $213,400,000,000 in the first six months of this year, Commerce Department figures showed. That was a record high.

The stream of cash was on the increase at mid-year, too, according to revised data from the department. Personal incomes rose in total from April through June, after having bumped down from last December's peak annual rate of $217,000,000,000 to a trough of $212,400,000,000 in March. By June, the rate was back to $213,500,000,000.

The main cause of an increase in the annual rate of personal incomes from May to June was higher farm receipts due to disposal of a larger volume of crops—either on the market or in loans from the government.

Possibly of greater significance was the first increase in factory payrolls since last September. The steady decline in that interim had resulted from worker layoffs, which in turn showed up in increased unemployment. In June, the department said, wages rose in the non-durable goods industries and "steadied" in the durable group.

Another Commerce Department report showed that the book value of business inventories had been cut back about $1,000,000,000 in June—chiefly by manufacturers and retailers—to an estimated total of $51,579,000,000.

Some economists have dubbed the business downturn this year an "inventory recession." As they see it, the chief cause of the downturn has been unwillingness of businessmen to increase or maintain stocks for fear they would get stuck with the goods in a period of declining prices.

Up to Officials (An Editorial)

With infantile paralysis on the increase, communities should be as diligent as parents in their precautions to prevent spread of the dread disease.

Parents are warned by physicians and health officials to keep children out of crowds and away from places where they might contact the polio germ.

But parents can't do it all. Now is the time for rigid checks on public places—restaurants with their kitchens and rest rooms, refreshment stands, grills and other places patronized by transients who may be carriers.

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, so the old adage goes, and now is the time to check the spread of polio just as firemen try to catch flames before they make too much headway.

A great responsibility rests with public officials, especially inspectors of public places. An emergency like the threatening

Hawaii Seizes Two Firms, Carries Fight to Showdown

Honolulu, Aug. 10 (AP)—Seizure of Honolulu's two strikebound stevedoring firms carried Hawaii's 192-day waterfront tieup to the showdown stage today.

Gov. Ingram Stansback signed orders late yesterday for the territorial government's takeover of two of the islands' seven struck dock companies. The five others in the outer islands were not affected.

The striking C.I.O. International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union wanted the start of government stevedoring operations to defy the territory.

L.L.W.U. leader Jack Hall said the union would start a court challenge to the territory's new dock seizure law within hours after the government puts its longshoremen to work. The government began signing up 1,500 stevedores yesterday.

Hall also said the C.I.O. Marine Engineers' Executive Board in Washington ordered its members not to sail ships from behind L.L.W.U. picket lines. John Perry, Honolulu representative of the engineers, confirmed receipt of the order from Washington headquarters.

The emergency law passed by a special session of the Hawaiian Legislature bans a strike "or any other concerted activity" threatening to interfere with government dock operations.

Stansback said the law clearly gives his government authority to act against any engineers refusing to sail ships.

The two Honolulu stevedoring companies covered by the governor's first seizure order are McCabe Hamilton & Renny Co. and Castle & Cooke Terminals, Ltd. The order instructed Ben F. Rush, harbor board manager, to take them over "forthwith." Rush will direct the government's stevedoring operations.

L.L.W.U. officials have threatened repeatedly to spread the strike to the mainland if the government went into the stevedoring business.

Some 2,000 dock workers are on strike for a 32-cent raise to an hourly basic rate of $1.72.

Legislation Criticized On 1 Point

Truman Regrets Any Restrictions Placed on Membership of Security Council

Strengthens Chief Johnson Authority Is Greater Than It Was Previously

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—President Truman today signed the new armed services unification bill. He said that this will permit the United States to progress toward "a balanced and effective national defense."

Mr. Truman signed the measure in a ceremony in his Oval Room office. Senators and representatives who handled the legislation, the heads of the defense establishment and top ranking army, navy and air force "brats" looked on.

The legislation, which strengthens Secretary of Defense Johnson's control over the entire military setup, drew one criticism from Mr. Truman.

"It is unfortunate that in this generally progressive legislation, at least one provision represents a backward step," the President said in a brief statement.

"New and cumbersome restrictions are placed on the membership of the National Security Council—whereas the desirable course would be to follow the recommendation of the commission on organization of the executive branch and remove the statutory restrictions on the council's membership."

As a whole, however, Mr. Truman said the bill "represents a great advance" and will lead to "increased efficiency and economy and greater coordination of our military forces."

He used seven pens in signing the bill. They went as souvenirs to Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee; Chairman Vinton (D-Co.) of the House committee; Secretary Johnson and Stephen Early, who becomes the $14,500-a-year deputy secretary of defense under the measure. Secretary of the Army Gray, Secretary of the Air Force Symington, and Secretary of the Navy Matthews were handed the other three pens.

Johnson, who had no time, as soon as the bill was signed, he appointed a National Defense Management Committee and a management advisory group.

To Work Out Program This new agency is to work out a program for maximum reduction of defense department expenditures—and still maintain military effectiveness.

Johnson named General Joseph T. McNamara as chairman of the Management Committee. Other members will be Army Secretary Gray; Undersecretary of the Navy Daniel A. Kimball, and Air Force Assistant Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert.

This second major step in unification of the army, navy and air forces marks a victory for Mr. Truman. Last March he appealed to Congress for legislation "to achieve the most efficient and economical national defense program."

That legislation, covering a series of what he called "urgent-needed changes" in the 1947 act that put the three forces under a single cabinet official for the first time, was what was signed today.

The legislation, among other things, will:

(1) Raise the present defense establishment to full cabinet status as an executive department ranking second only to the State Department. This will give Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson more power to force greater team play between the three services.

(2) Reduce the army, navy and air force from executive status to military departments. Actual merger of the three services and their subordinate units—including naval aviation and the marine corps—however, is prohibited.

(3) Set up a permanent chairman of the joint chiefs of staff. The new chairman would have no vote or command authority but would be ranking military officer of the nation. His chiefs would be enormous. The chiefs of staff, top commanding officers of the army, navy and air forces, would continue as chief military advisers.

Humidity, Trains Credited With Reports of Gasses

An odor of gas reported in two sections of the city last night was believed to be from the locomotive smoke of a West Shore train, Deputy Fire Chief George Matthews said following an investigation.

Police were notified of a "strong odor of gas" at O'Neil street and Smith avenue at 10:20 p. m., and the fire department said a later report of a similar odor came from Lucas avenue and Green street.

The fire chief said he believed the night's humidity had something to do with the low settling of the fumes in certain areas.

Come Down, They Say

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—New Yorkers wished the weather man would come down to earth today as he officially recorded 93 degrees at 11 a. m. (EST). Official recordings are made 45 feet above the street. It was that hot up there, it was plenty hotter far below. If you had to be this hot, you might as well get credit for it, New Yorkers argued. A peak of 97.6 was reached at 2:25 p. m. (EST) yesterday. The highest temperature ever recorded here was 102.3 on July 9, 1936. No relief was in sight.

Response to Sale Reported as Good

Response to the city-wide Kingston Days starting this morning was very good, Gordon Peterson, chairman of the sponsoring Retail Merchants' Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, stated at noon.

Peterson disclosed that there were crowds at several stores before the general opening hour at 10 a. m. and that the general buying trend continued at a good pace all morning.

It was noted that the early morning shoppers were particularly interested in the sale of women's shoes at the various establishments.

With a break in the weather, the opening day of the two-day sale attracted a large number of city and county residents. "We also noticed quite a few strange faces who were probably tourists taking advantage of the annual sale," Peterson added.

Kingston Days are a semi-annual promotion of the Chamber of Commerce occurring in February and August each year. The sale will continue all day Thursday.

James Plunket Is D.A. Candidate

According to Attorney William Kelly, speaking today for the committee of the Ulster county Democratic party on filling vacancies, James Plunket, Kingston lawyer, has been named to run for district attorney in place of Robert V. Stapleton of Ellenville, who has declined the nomination. The new candidate is a brother of Thomas Plunket, Democratic county chairman, with whom he is associated in the practice of law, with an office in the uptown section of Kingston.

Stapleton was nominated at the unofficial convention of the Democratic party on July 20, but declined on August 2 to run for the post in opposition to Louis G. Bruhn, Republican nominee, seeking re-election after one term of office.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—Shaking itself loose from a mixed price trend, the stock market today tilted slightly higher.

Although the gains were in fractions, a few stocks here and there ran up as much as a point at times.

There wasn't any steam behind the movement, but trading continued at a moderate pace.

West Penn Electric opened at a new high for the year on a block of 1,100 shares of stock and continued in good demand, directors increased the common dividend and sought permission of the Securities and Exchange Commission to initiate outstanding senior securities.

American Power & Light also reached a new high for the year, and three blocks of 12,000, 6,000 and 3,000 shares of United Corp. were traded unchanged at 4.

Allegheny preferred extended its Tuesday gains by more than a point at one time but Nickel Plate lost a portion of its 4 1/2 point rise of Tuesday.

Other rails were unchanged to around a point higher, while steels, motors, coppers, distillers, and radio-TV shares were mostly on the plus side. Oils were unchanged, high priced aircraft and air lines were mixed.

Stocks in the curb market were mostly higher including New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., Niagara Hudson Power, Northrop Aircraft, Aluminum Co. of America, Alkansas Natural Gas Company and A. Brown Rubber.

Consolidated Gas & Electric of Baltimore, and Electric Bond & Share.

Buying interest increased in the bond market among some rails and corporate loans. There was little change in prices for government securities in the over the counter market.

Late Bulletin

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—Eighty-nine new polio cases and five additional deaths were reported today in New York state.

The death toll for the year rose to 71 and the number of cases to 1,149.

Sixty of the new cases were in New York city and 29 were reported from the other 57 counties.

All five of the new deaths occurred in New York city, raising the total there to 57. There have been 14 upstate deaths since Jan. 1.

Today's new cases raised New York city's total for the year to 771. The upstate total reached 878.

The New York city figures were announced by the city Health Department and the upstate total by the state Health Department.

Lions Club Sees Film on Freedom

The Kingston Lions Club at a regular meeting Tuesday noon became the first group in this city to view the Warner-Pathe moving picture being shown in conjunction with the appearance in this city August 16 and 17 of the New York State Freedom Train under the sponsorship of the Kingston Daily Freeman.

The showing before Lions Club members at the Governor Clinton Hotel was the first showing in this city outside of a preview held for committee members, according to Andrew Murphy 3rd, superintendent of reception, who is in charge of projecting the 10-minute short which dramatically depicts the development of personal freedom in this state. A showing at the Veterans Housing Project, scheduled for Friday, was postponed when the film did not arrive here in time, Murphy said.

The film was shown at Kingston High School this morning for summer school students and at noon at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club at the Stuyvesant Hotel. It is scheduled for Hasbrouck Park this evening.

Miss America's Parents Protest Misquotations
Minneapolis, Aug. 10 (AP)—Parents of Miss America—BeBe Shopp of Hopkins, Minn.—today protested that their daughter, now on European tour, is being misquoted in the American press.

The quotations attributed to Miss America are "completely false" said her father, E. R. Shopp, "they are the work of some head over heels."

"Not one word printed about BeBe in United States papers during her European tour is true," Shopp said. Eighteen year old BeBe has visited London and Paris so far on her tour. She is accompanied by Virginia Safford, Minneapolis newspaper columnist. BeBe has been quoted in the press on a number of subjects including fashions and French bathing suits.

"Because newspapers over here aren't quoting BeBe correctly," said BeBe's mother, "Mr. Shopp sent her a cable. The message read: Advise quotations persist, stop giving opinions, granting newspaper interviews. Keep out of wine shops, cocktail lounges. Atlantic City is up in arms."

Shopp said a London newspaper had telephoned him expressing surprise over the manner in which the U. S. press treated BeBe.

"They were amazed that a lovely girl representing America to Europe would be treated so shabbily by her own people," Shopp said.

"We've talked to BeBe and Miss Safford several times," said Mrs. Shopp, "and they can't understand where those false quotations started. They were amazed over some of the statements attributed to BeBe."

Police Report Clue On Loss of $794
Police indicated today that a definite clue has been obtained on the loss of $794 by Mrs. Joseph B. Moore of 9 Ten Breock avenue last Thursday.

Detective William Krum, who has been assigned to the case, said recent information is turning out to be helpful. Details of a description are being pieced together, he said, and the person involved can avoid serious consequences by turning in the money at police headquarters.

The money was reported lost in or near the A. & P. market on Prince street.

Grandmother Is Held
New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—A small, quick-tempered grandmother was being held today in $5,000 bond on charges she served as contact woman between a longtime counterfeiting gang and underworld elements in Connecticut. She is Mrs. Beatrice Resch, 52, operator of a dress shop in her lower east side home. She has an invalid husband and six children, including three married daughters. Arraigned yesterday on charges of conspiring to pass counterfeit money, she shook her head and sobbed, "Oh, no, that's not true."

Bicycle Is Found
Officers Raymond Wells and Henry Ronnenberg brought an abandoned girl's bicycle to headquarters shortly after 12 a. m. today. It was left at Smith avenue and Cornell street, they said.

Condition Is Fair
Miss Jay Warshaw of 600 West 115th street, New York, was reported to be in fair condition today at the Kingston Hospital. She was brought to the hospital Saturday afternoon after falling from a horse she was riding.

President Signs

to the President and the secretary of defense, General Dwight Eisenhower has been acting temporarily as head of the joint chiefs. Gen. Omar Bradley, now army chief of staff, is expected to be named by the President to take over this top job in a regular basis.

(4) Keep at present title secretaries of the army, navy and air force but trim their pay to $14,000 to $1,000 less than they now receive.

(5) Authorize three assistant secretaries of defense.

(6) Install a business or financial manager, known as a comptroller, for the Defense Department with similar officials in each of the military departments. Sponsors of the legislation say they can save a billion dollars or more annually by eliminating duplications, overlapping and waste.

President Truman has assured Congress that the new powers the measure gives Secretary of Defense Johnson "does not mean the creation of one-man rule or dictatorship."

Income Is . . .

of the cutback in inventories having possibly been overdone, with the result that many firms find themselves, losing sales because they are unable to provide increasingly choosy customers a sufficient selection of goods. The customers, it's said, turn to competing firms.

Some firming of business sentiment was reported, meanwhile, by President Truman's chief economic advisor, Dr. Edwin G. Nourse. Yesterday he cited the recent strong showing of the stock market as evidence of improved business feeling.

In still another report, the Commerce Department said that publicly reported cash dividends paid by corporations were 13 per cent higher in June than in the same month last year. It put the June figure at $825,000,000, and said about 60-65 per cent of all cash dividends paid are publicly reported.

Heat Wave Settles

Temperatures there were no higher than normal.

Hot Is Forecast
Albany, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—The weather bureau put its forecast for today in one word—"hot."

Temperatures were expected to equal yesterday's record-breaking 90's over most of the state.

Upstate areas enjoyed some cooling breezes during the night when the mercury fell generally into the 60's.

However, New York city didn't even get temporary relief from the heat. The overnight low at La Guardia Field was 82, recorded early today.

Syracuse also stayed warm. The early morning low was 75.

Yesterday, the mercury rose to 99 at Poughkeepsie as records fell all over the state. New York city's 97.6 topped the 49-year-old date record by 2.6 degrees.

Aged Man Cuts

and, who was summoned by Mrs. Albert Schneider, owner of the rooming house, found Mudrack with his throat slashed. A straight razor covered with blood was found under the man's bed.

Mrs. Schneider had previously gone up to the man's room when he hadn't left his room for supper.

The man was brought to the Benedictine Hospital by the George S. Moylan ambulance of Rosendale. Dr. Leander G. Rymph also was called.

Will Turn Over Planes

Athens, Aug. 10 (AP)—Forty-nine U. S. Navy dive bombers will be turned over to the Greek Air Force in a few days, Lieut. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, chief of the U. S. Military Mission, announced today. Two of the planes, known as Hell Divers, were delivered several weeks ago and U. S. Navy pilots have been secretly training Greek fliers in their use at Larissa. Van Fleet said the dive bombers would play an important role in final liquidation of Communist-led guerrillas by pinpoint bombing and rocketing of mountain strongholds.

Fresh Forces Used

Canton, Aug. 10 (AP)—Communists threw fresh forces into a fierce battle on the approaches to this Nationalist capital today. The Nationalists claimed yesterday 11,000 Communist troops had been surrounded near Suichuan, 50 miles northwest of Kanchien. Far to the northwest of the Hunan-Kiangsi front, the Nationalists admitted further setback in Kansu province. Nationalist forces retreated to a point 30 miles north of Communist-held Kuyuan, which is 150 miles east of Lanzhou, Kansu's capital. Yesterday the Nationalists claimed they had inflicted 20,000 casualties on Red troops in Kansu.

Jewelry Fortune Reported Missing At Southampton

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—A fortune in jewelry—$92,500 worth—is reported missing from the summer home of Walter G. Dunnington in this exclusive Long Island resort community.

Police said a discriminating thief had carefully selected the most valuable items from Mrs. Dunnington's jewel box, which had been placed in a locked bedroom closet.

The theft, reported last night, was first discovered by the Dunningtons when they returned here Monday night, after spending Sunday night and Monday at their New York city home at 812 Park avenue.

The loot, which included a $40,000 diamond ring, a $20,000 diamond bracelet and six other pieces, was insured, police said.

They reported there was no evidence of forcible entry either into the house or the locked closet. Six servants were in the house during the Dunningtons' absence, police said.

Dunnington is a Wall Street lawyer.

His wife, Elizabeth, told police she wore some of her most valuable gems to a party at the fashionable Southampton Beach Club Saturday night, and locked them in the closet on her return.

Police said the thief had scooped several less valuable items in the box.

Locust Trees Affected By Leaf Miner in Valley

Leaves of locust trees along the lower Hudson Valley are turning yellow and reddish brown, as though autumn colors had arrived.

It is the work of an insect, the locust leaf miner, Henry Plate, Peekskill district manager of the Bartlett Tree Expert Company, reported today. He said this damage will be accentuated during the remainder of August and September. In addition to the leaf miner, the long drought has aggravated the appearance of many of the trees due to leaf drying and other after-effects of the dry spell.

But it is still not too late to do something about it, Mr. Plate said. Arsenate of lead spraying may do the trick.

The locust leaf miner damage is done by the larvae of the pest which feed inside the tissues of leaves. The adults appear in spring and lay clusters of reddish brown eggs on the underside of leaves. These eggs hatch and the resulting grubs tunnel into the leaves, creating tiny tunnels or mines.

After feeding inside the leaf for two weeks, the miner emerges and remains on the upper side of the leaf for several days before again entering the leaf, this time from the top side. A miner may make as many as three mines a season, pausing several days on the leaf between the two-week feeding periods.

It is when the miner is on top of the leaf that it can be controlled with arsenate of lead. It ingests enough of the outer leaf to take in the arsenate of lead.

The first generation of the locust leaf miner has done the damage now clearly seen. But there are often successive generations or such overlapping that locust trees now will have both adults, eggs and larvae at the same time. That is why, said Mr. Plate, spraying is recommended.

Firemen Check Blaze

Firemen were called at 9:09 p. m. Tuesday to check a slight fire in a car owned by Theron Jones of 337 South Wall street on Pine Grove avenue near the bus terminal. The blaze was due to a break in the gas line and caused only slight damage, the reports said.

"Below Low Cost — Above High Quality"

Pitching Horseshoes

By BILLY ROSE

During my rag-tag career as a showman, I've met up with a lot of fortune tellers, and it's my bumptious belief that, when it comes to fortunes, there's just no telling.

After watching these heralds of the hereafter in night clubs and side shows for a quarter of a century, I'm convinced that (a) a palm is something to rest the chin on, and (b) that the creases in a man's skull usually come from a rolling pin, rather than the day after tomorrow.

Which brings me to the story of Princess Winona, the mind reader, a 200-pound bundle of omens and omissions, all Woolworth and a yard wide.

Back in the good old miss-meal days of the '20's, I was writing comic material for any two-bit vaudeville who could scare up two bits. And so I was ready and willing when Princess Winona's agent informed me that his client was prepared to part with 50 bucks if I could come up with some peppy chatter to fun up her act.

That night, I borrowed a nickel from a solvent shoeshine boy and subverted my way out to the vaudeville theatre at Brighton Beach where she was playing. And, sure enough, her act was as stilted as the tall man in a circus, chockablock with the kind of wheezes an embalmer might get off after a hard day at the office.

"Princess," I said when I saw her, after the show, "the first thing I'd suggest is to drop the emphasis on your supernatural powers. What the act needs is a little kidding in between the miracles."

"The booking office would probably like it that way," said Her Holiness, "but I have no intention of making light of the powers Providence has given me."

"It isn't the booking office I'm thinking of," I said. "It's the customers. And the best way to keep them from squatting on their hands is to poke fun at your own racket. You know, pull a pawn ticket out of your sleeve instead of the ace of spades—something like that."

Waddlesome Winona looked at me as if I had called her a sub-Webster name. "Young man," she said, "you're evidently confusing me with some of the charlatans you've worked for. Not only can I read minds, but nature has given me an extra sense—the ability to look into the future and predict what is going to happen."

"Okay, okay," I said hastily, afraid of missing out on the fifty. "I'll take me a week to frame up a new act, and then I'd like to go over it with you. What theatre are you playing next week?"

"I wish I knew," said the Princess. (Copyright, 1949, by Billy Rose) (Distributed by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Osterhout of the aerator park neighborhood. The Methodist annual fair and supper last Wednesday evening was largely attended by residents and summer people of several communities. Everyone was well pleased with the entertainment furnished by magician Fred Van Deusen of Kingston and the talented three-man band of Port Ewen. Net receipts according to the W.C.S. treasury totaled approximately $300.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cahill and two children of New York arrived here Saturday for their annual vacation sojourn in Shokan and are occupying an apartment on Van Steenburg road.

There appears to be a heavy crop of late apples in this section despite the retarding effects manifested during the early part of the drought. The occasional showers, while failing to relieve the water supply situation generally, have served to alter the vegetable and fruit picture most favorably. A month ago, say, no one expected that August would bring flourishing gardens and heavily laden fruit trees (Martin Gutnick has his dooryard apple trees propped with a score or more of crocheted poles, to ease the strain on sagging branches.)

Occupants of the Henry J. Gebelin new apartment in the village center are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wohlberg and daughter, Florence, of the Bronx who expect to remain here until Labor Day.

Birthdays falling on Friday August 12 include that of Kenneth Davis, Krumville young man who for a time made his home at the present John Heiser place opposite the Ashokan schoolhouse. Kenneth, who has a number of friends in the lower village, is employed at the Lavin Glover stone quarry near Olive Bridge and he attends the Wesleyan Methodist Church services at Acorn Hill.

Harry Davenport Dies On Coast; Famed Actor

Hollywood, Aug. 10 (AP)—After 78 years in show business, Harry Davenport, 83, character actor, is dead.

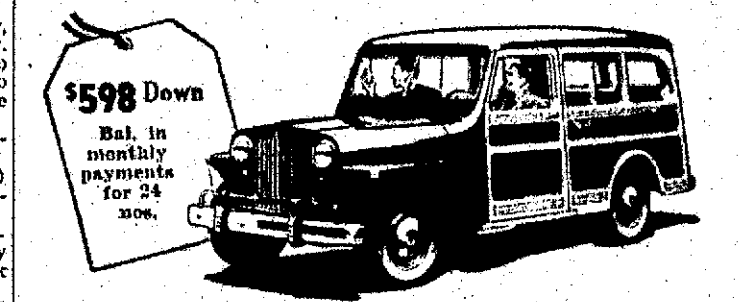

He died yesterday of a heart ailment.

Davenport first appeared on the stage at the age of five, and had acted in the movies since 1912. Among his 100-odd films were "Gone With the Wind," "Hunchback of Notre Dame," and the as yet unreleased "Foray into Sargasso."

Born in New York, Davenport is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Davenport Reid, widow of actor Wallace Reid; Kate and Ann Davenport, and a son, Edward L. Davenport.

Kingston and Freedom

The need for a hospital was felt in 1870 and an organization of citizens attempted to establish one. The cost was considered excessive although a suitable plot of ground was donated by John O'Reilly, and the matter was dropped. Agitation for a hospital finally bore fruit and in 1890 an association was formed to build a modern hospital. Funds were raised by private contributions, fairs, and other public charitable entertainments. Probably the most successful of these was a "Kermess" in the Academy of Music. It was combined with a fair in which most of the prominent ladies of Kingston took a great interest. The folk dances of the nations of the world were more than colorful as the costumes were obtained from the dancers from theatrical costumers in New York. The Kermess participants were trained by Miss Lila Stewart later to become the outstanding producer of such fairs in the country. The present hospital near the city hall is modern and efficient. The Benedictine is the next in importance and occupies a location quite close to the one proposed in 1870 for the Kingston City Hospital now the Kingston Hospital. It had a fine reputation quite equal to its predecessor. The city and county have arrangements with both hospitals to take care of patients who are not financially able to afford treatment.

One cannot leave the history of Kingston without mention of the Daughters of the American Revolution which was formed in October 1892 and whose influence and interest in civic affairs have had a wide and happy effect in Kingston. The first president was Miss Mary Isabella Forsyth whose writings especially her story of the "Burning of Kingston" have had a wide circulation.

The answers to why people came from over seas to colonize America is as varied as the colors of the rainbow. Once they had reached the shores of North America there was a forest to conquer, to plant, shelters to build and Indians that had to be considered. Some colonists disregarded the rights of the Indians and trouble started. Others recognized that the Indians owned the land and bought it from them. In one case there was war; in the other peace. Once in a while setlers returned across the sea discouraged and bitter. The courageous ones, however, remained to make America. It was a long hard road, a history of wars, famines, poverty and death; the "Four Horsemen" that infested foreign soil. They conquered at last and when the Constitutions of the states and finally the United States were written it was their experiences that guided them in writing it and including in it the freedom their ancestors missed in their former homelands. The "Freedoms" we enjoy are found in the "Bill of Rights" in Article 1 of the 10 first amendments for which the representatives of New York state in the Poughkeepsie Convention fought under the leadership of the men of the original Ulster county, the Clintons. From these original "Freedoms" have descended the many others now part of the laws of the nation. In the beginning the fight was to live in peace when it was necessary to fight the Indians the it was to maintain their liberty against other nations when the Hundred Years War spread from Europe to America. And so on through the greatest of all—the Revolution followed by the War of 1812, the Mexican War, the Rebellion of the South, the Spanish-American War to free Cuba and the First and Second World Wars.

Not must we forget that it was the power of these United States that guaranteed the Freedom of the Nations of South America when Uncle Sam issued the Monroe Doctrine. For more than a 100 years the United States has been at peace with the nations of the Rio Grande and longer than that with such nations as England, France and China. Yes, even Russia. The first amendment guaranteed "Freedom of Religion," "Freedom of Speech," "Freedom of the Press," and "Freedom of Assembly," to petition the government for redress of grievances. The other nine articles should be read by every American and become as familiar to him as his own name. Guard your right to the freedom so dearly won by your forefathers and be ready to fight to maintain it.

This is a busy world and a busy age. We are so accustomed to the liberty we have and which many others in the world so sadly lack, that we do not often think of the careful watchfulness required to preserve it and the "Freedoms" that go with it. Vigilance was the watchword of the founders of the United States. Let us also be vigilant.

All-Metal Walls Might Supplant Other Materials

Pittsburgh, Aug. 10 (AP)—Sky-scrapers of the future may be made without stone, brick or mortar.

Aluminum and stainless steel manufacturers have developed all-metal "curtain walls" which can be used in place of traditional building materials.

Curtain walls are only three to six inches thick, with a resulting saving in floor space. They consist of relatively thin-gauge metal, backed by insulation, and furrowed to prevent blinding light reflections and to increase wind strength. Their use has been approved by underwriting laboratories and by many modernized building codes.

The new method already has been put to everyday use. The Aluminum Company of America, which first built a pilot plant of aluminum at Davenport, Ia., now is constructing a 30-story skyscraper office building in Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle.

The $10,000,000 Alcoa-Alcoa office building on Sixth avenue will have exterior surfaces completely made of aluminum except for window panes.

Other pioneering in curtain wall construction has been done by the Allegheny-Ludlum Steel Corp., which furnished stainless steel panels for a four-story office building at the big General Electric Co. plant in Schenectady, N. Y.

Three to six-inch thick curtain walls compare with masonry walls of from 18 to 40 inches thick. Allegheny-Ludlum and Alcoa officials say there is no need for the thicker walls in steel framework buildings. They say the exterior surface is needed principally to keep the elements out and the occupants in. The walls do not hold up the building or make it strong.

As Pegler Sees It

sub-committee on labor in June regarding oppression under unionism only one rank and file witness appeared. Mrs. Helen Kulesha came voluntarily from New York and swore that she had been done out of her pittance of about $21 for her vacation because she had refused to contribute $7 to the United Jewish Appeal, the Italian American Labor Council, the Jewish Labor Committee, Histadrut and many other organizations who carry on relief and reconstruction in foreign lands. Mrs. Kulesha earned about $20 a week and was entitled to about $22 vacation money, paid by her employer to the union to her credit for that specific purpose. When the vacation checks were being passed out by the union, hers was put in her hand and then was snatched back because she had refused to pay $7 to this collection. The $7 was not just one day's pay, but one-third of a week's pay. Also, it was about one-third of her total vacation check.

Dubinsky prints at rank and file expense a propaganda paper for his own glorification and power called Justice. The issue of July 15 devoted more than a column to a propaganda story scoffing at my testimony and praising Dubinsky. But it did not mention Mrs. Helen Kulesha.

At last reports, Mrs. Kulesha was trying to recover her vacation money in the Small Claims Court in New York.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

I received a call from a young woman to tell me that her grandmother, aged 83, and her grandfather, aged 85, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burger, who were married in Saugerties in 1894 got quite a kick out of being mentioned in this column. It seems Mr. Burger, a barber by profession, shaved the man who killed one of the Kendall brothers, just before the hanging in back of the court house. This incident was mentioned in this May 23, 1940 column. Mayor Crane was one of the eyewitnesses to the hanging some 64 years ago.

Met Miss J. Vallette, whose father was clerk in the city hall for some time. She showed me a tiny booklet containing the "Confederation and By-laws of the Wilkewick Hose Co. No. 1 of Kingston, which were adopted on April 1, 1862 and revised April 1, 1869." This booklet was printed in Ellenville, N. Y., by Taylor and Haight printers in 1869. The station was then called a Carriage House. Three names listed were: William Masten, Jr., M. T. Newkirk and J. Burhans, Jr. The rules included fines of 25 cents for smoking at a meeting and a 50-cent fine for introducing a political subject at a meeting. I would some day like to copy the entire little booklet for some of those 80-year-old laws were certainly wise. By the way, it was exciting to see Union Hose of Poughkeepsie bring out the parade carriage, shining bright and decked out with flowers. I understand this is the only parade carriage which always makes the firemen's parades.

Sam Bernstein loaned me an envelope on which is written in flowing Spencerian handwriting "Mr. R. C. Riddle." The printing on the envelope reads: "Kingston Academy. Established 1774. C. Curtis, A. M., Principal, Kingston, New York." The envelope contains the following: "Kingston Academy. Report of Scholarship and Department of Robert Riddle for term ending July 3, 1873." Following may interest local educators: Subjects and marks for Riddle were: 75 in Algebra, 95 in Bookkeeping, 98 Latin, 94 Natural Philosophy, 96 Penmanship, 99 Reading, 95 Spelling, 91 average of Examinations, 91 in Recitations of term, 91 average of both, rank in class, 7th, 96 Department, days absent, 0. There were other subjects such as Botany, Chemistry, Civil Government, English, History, French, Geometry, German, Greek, General History, Mental Philosophy, Natural History, Physical Geography, Physiology, Rhetoric, Trigonometry, Declaration and Composition. Riddle must have been an excellent student to receive such marks, and Curtis the principal's signature is handsome. There is also another attractive small flowered and eagle decorated document stating that "Robert Riddle having passed the required examination is now admitted into the Senior Class" dated July 3, 1874.

Cobleskill Man Killed
Cobleskill, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—Charles Thompson, 43, operator of an automobile agency, was killed yesterday when an auto he was unloading from a freight car fell on him. Police Chief Patrick O'Neil said the auto was suspended from a hoist in the freight car. He could not explain what caused the auto to fall. Thompson lived in Schoharie with his wife and four children. He formerly resided in Huntington and White Plains.

Proper Ironing
Proper ironing can mean the difference between smart and dowdy-looking cottons. Light-colored cottons should be ironed right side out; dark colors should be ironed on the wrong side to prevent a shine. Smooth sheer cottons should be ironed while quite damp. The best ironing temperature for cottons is usually between 350 and 400 degrees.

FEAST your eyes, folks—and reach for your checkbook.

For here, in one stunning, swift-lined bundle, is everything—yes, everything—you've been hoping for.

New style note? Well, just look at that brand-new idea in front-end styling. Grille, bumper, bumper-guards and even parking lights all combined in a single, sturdy assembly that means you can't "lock horns" with other cars!

New over-all size? We've trimmed inches from its over-all length for handiness in traffic—yet here's still the generous wheelbase that spells a level-going ride.

New roominess? Swing open the doors—a thumb-touch does it!—and gaze on the biggest interiors you can buy for the money, with sofa-wide front seats and no less than 12 more inches in rear-seat hiproom.

Slip behind the wheel. Finger-easy Synchro-Mesh transmission if you choose—the satiny smoothness of Dynaflo Drive* as optional equipment if you want the very latest thing.

And if power is your meat—just lift the bonnet and look on a husky Fireball power plant of 110 horsepower with conventional transmission, 120 with Dynaflo Drive.

Surely here's a car big as your fondest ambition—yet price-wise it's right down your alley! Fits modest family budgets *Optional at extra cost.

as it fits modest-size garages, puts Buick in reach of still more people!

Last Two Programs By Koussevitzky Are Announced

Lenox, Mass.—Performances of Benjamin Britten's new "Spring Symphony" and Olivier Messiaen's "The Ascension" will highlight Dr. Serge Koussevitzky's last two concerts as music director of the Boston Symphony Orchestra Saturday and Sunday at Tanglewood.

The Britten work, which is dedicated to Dr. Koussevitzky, will have its American premiere Saturday evening at 8:15. It had its first performance at the Holland Festival in Amsterdam July 24.

Based on 14 selections from the English poets dealing with the subject of spring, the symphony calls for soprano, alto and tenor soloists, boys, chorus, mixed chorus and orchestra.

Soloists will be soprano Frances Yocend, alto Eunice Alberts and tenor David Lloyd. The festival chorus prepared by Hugh Ross will be assisted by a boys' chorus from Camp Muh-Kee-Nee Lenox.

At the symphony's world premiere in Amsterdam last month, the composer was given a 20-minute ovation. The London Times music critic termed it "far and away the happiest piece of extended music that has been written for many a long day."

"The Ascension" by Messiaen, the French composer who is teaching at the Tanglewood music school this summer, is subtitled "Four Symphonic Meditations"; the four sections are based upon Biblical quotations. The work has been presented in this country several times before, but this will be its first performance by the Boston Symphony Orchestra. It was originally scheduled to be played last Saturday.

The final series of Festival concerts will open Thursday night at 8:15 with Leonard Bernstein conducting Schubert's second symphony and Shostakovich's seventh symphony. The Shostakovich work was written in Leningrad while the city was under siege in 1941, and given its first concert performance in America the following year at Tanglewood. Bernstein scored a hit conducting the Schumann and Stravinsky concert July 31.

Dr. Koussevitzky will take his last bows as music director Sunday afternoon after conducting Beethoven's Fifth Symphony.

The Thursday night program: Symphony No. 2 Schubert Intermission
Symphony No. 7 Shostakovich Leonard Bernstein, conductor
The Saturday night program: Spring Symphony Britten Intermission

Chamber-Opera Is Special Attraction At Tanglewood

Lenox, Mass.—A special performance of "Savitri," a one-act chamber-opera by Gustav Theodor Holst, will be given here during "Tanglewood Parade," Friday, Aug. 12, for box-holders and holders of reserved section tickets.

The seldom-heard work, written for an open-air performance with an invisible orchestra, conductor and female chorus, will be presented on the Tanglewood grounds at 4:30 before the regular program.

It will precede an evening of music and entertainment that will include Boston Symphony Orchestra performances of Leonard Bernstein's second symphony, Randall Thompson's new five-minute-long choral work, "The Last Words of David," and Tchaikovsky's Fifth Symphony.

The program will start at 6 p. m. for general admission visitors. At 7 p. m. a general assembly by the Berkshire Music Center's 450 students. Ten minutes later, the school's four departments will give simultaneous performances: short symphonic works by the advanced student orchestra in the Music Shed, a choral demonstration-rehearsal in the orchard, scenes from Verdi's operas in the Theatre-Concert Hall, and a chamber music concert in the Chamber Music Hall.

There will be time out at 7 for a lawn party and picnic supper. The public has been invited to bring a supper and use the buffet and refreshment carts.

At 8 noted speakers will participate in the "manifestation" in the Shed, followed by the Boston Symphony Orchestra concert under the direction of Dr. Serge Koussevitzky.

At 10:45, right after the concert, announcement will be made of the winners of the door prizes: two "Berkshire model" radio-phonographs.

The evening will wind up with waiting on the lawn at 10:30, and a display of fireworks.

Popular Judge Is

To Preside Sept. 5

At Cocker Show

Clyde Heck of Allentown, Pa., will be the judge at the specialty show of the Hudson Valley Cocker Spaniel Club on Labor Day, September 5, according to an announcement received from Miss Ida H. Ogilvie, vice president of the club and owner of Airline Kennels at The Hermitage near Germantown.

Heck is considered one of the most popular judges of cocker spaniels in the country, well-known expert in field trials and breeder of cocker spaniels for over 25 years.

The Cocker Specialty Show is to be a part of the seventh annual dog show of the Mid-Hudson Kennel Club and will be held at Pawling on the estate of Mrs. John K. Branch.

There will be children's classes as well as local classes for the benefit of exhibitors. Two hundred dollars in special prizes will be given in addition to regular class cash prizes and sterling trophies.

Those who plan to exhibit should write to the Foley Dog Show Organization, Inc., 2009 Ransstead street, Philadelphia 3, Pa., for entry blanks and the premium list. Entries close August 23.

Ivers Is on Honeymoon

With Girl Who Helped Him

Los Angeles, Aug. 10 (AP).—"Sonny" Ivers is honeymooning today with the girl who helped him overcome and kill a "lovers lane" gunman.

Alwyn Ivers, 19, left Good Samaritan Hospital yesterday, five weeks after his jaw was splintered by a bullet from the gun of William Brock, 18. His jaw broke in a fight.

Brock shot Ivers after he came upon them in a parked car in the Baldwin Hills district July 1. Ivers' companion, now his bride, picked up the pistol and handed it to Sonny, who shot Brock four times.

A coroner's jury ruled it was justifiable homicide and praised Ivers as a hero.

Ivers and his 16-year-old bride, Betty, will spend a week at a nearby mountain resort. They were married in the hospital.

Good Taste Today

SAYING GOOD-BYE

A traveler explains: "I'm leaving on a four-month trip to Europe, which my friends know about. Is it up to me to say good-bye to each one? It seems to me that they should be the ones to make the effort to see me before I go."

You are right.

Sunday Dinner

Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell me what would be the correct amount to leave for the waitress when we go to Sunday dinner. This is a comparatively small restaurant—sort of neighborhood place—service is good and food excellent. Dinners run from two fifty to four dollars and either my husband's parents or mine are always with us.

Answer: Ten per cent is the least that you should give, and 15 per cent would be liberal.

Exception to Rule

Dear Mrs. Post: Are the best man and maid of honor always given personal gifts for serving in the wedding? May it be something for their house when they are newly married themselves (to each other) and have very little in the way of good silver.

Answer: The rule of giving each a personal remembrance of the occasion applies, of course, to the usual wedding group. In this situation, I think your suggestion excellent.

Aunt Not Immediate Family

Dear Mrs. Post: Is an aunt too close a relation to invite my friends to a shower for me? She would also invite cousins.

Answer: Since she is not immediate family, it might be thought all right, if no other shower is being given for you. But it would be in best taste if it were given by a friend of your own age.

What About Boss's Daughter?

Dear Mrs. Post: Our large office was sent a marriage announcement of our boss's daughter. We've never seen her, but some think we ought to make up a collection and send a wedding present.

Answer: If your liking for your employer prompts you to send a gift, it would be entirely proper that you do so—but certainly not a requirement.

How should the inside envelope of wedding invitations and announcements be addressed? Mrs. Post's new leaflet, E-10, contains advice on this question, also various forms to use. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry that she cannot answer personal mail.

Milburn to Sing With Clayton Band Thursday Night

Elmhurst, Aug. 10.—The sixty-five-year-old Clayton Military Band will play its seventh summer concert, Thursday night, on Liberty Square. The program will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Richard Milburn, tenor soloist from Middletown, will be featured. Mr. Milburn sang with the Clayton Band several summers ago. His return to the local bandstand will be warmly welcomed.

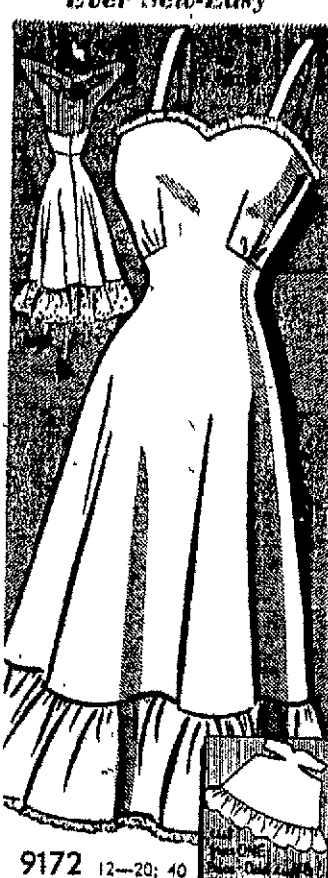

Harry J. Smith, conductor, has chosen the following selections:

MacNamara's Band, O'Connor; Salute to the Colors, march by King; Night and Day, Cole Porter; One Beautiful Day, overture by Hildreth; National Anthem, march by Bagley; The Stars and Stripes Forever, Sousa; West of the Great Divide, Ball; Richard Milburn, tenor soloist; The Light Cavalry Overture, von Suppe. Arranged for band by Henry Fillmore; The Son of God Goes Forth to War, hymn tune by Cutler; Them Bases, march by Haffner; The National Anthem.

Miss Wolfersteig Becomes Bride of Henry Bernstein

Miss Vivian R. Wolfersteig of 91 Harding avenue became the bride of Henry Bernstein, 173 Pearl street, Sunday at 3:30 p. m. in the home of her parents: The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Stephen P. Connolly, pastor of St. Joseph's Church was officiating clergyman.

They were attended by Martha Jean Morehouse of Colon-on-Hudson, sister of the bridegroom who wore blue organdy, and Vincent L. Wolfersteig, brother of the bride.

The wedding gown of Miss Wolfersteig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Oscar Wolfersteig of 91 Harding avenue, was of ivory satin with nylon fingertip veil and sweetheart-shaped headpiece. She carried a white cascade of gladioli. Her father gave her away.

Wedding music was played by organist James Sweeney and the floral setting for the event was formed of fern, gladioli and palms.

After the ceremony a reception was held for approximately 175 at Judge's on Albany avenue, and following the social time Mr. and Mrs. Bernstein left for a wedding tour of the New England States, Canada and Nova Scotia.

The bride's traveling ensemble was of navy blue with red accessories. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Bernstein will reside in Phoenix, Ariz. Both are employed by the New York State Conservation Department.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bernstein of 173 Pearl street, is a graduate of Virginia Military Institute, and the bride is a graduate of Kingston High School.

Trumping Partner's Ace Defeats Bid

By WILLIAM E. MCKINNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

I like to meet young up-and-coming stars. The lives of every one of these typical American boys and girls are very interesting. Take the young star I was chatting with the other day, Kay Starr. She sings every Tuesday and Thursday night over one of the major networks.

Kay is a little Indian girl who belongs to the Cherokee-Choctaw tribe, born and raised in the town of Dougherty, Okla. When I asked her where this town was, she said, "Dougherty is a little town all by itself. It is only a block long. We hold movies in the billiard hall once or twice a month. Our post office is the drugstore, and our ice-house is run by the local garage man. We have only one telephone."

Kay started to sing when she was 10 years old in Dallas, Tex.

1♠	2♥	2♥	Pass
2♠	3♥	4♠	Pass
Opening lead—♠ K			10

She nicknamed her father "Child Sitting Pretty" because he liked to sit and listen to her sing.

Kay likes to play bridge but refused to play with me. She shyly said, "I am afraid I might trump your ace and then you would get angry with me."

I told her I wouldn't, especially if she trumped my ace in today's hand. West cashes the king of diamonds and leads the ace. If this holds the trick and he plays the ace of clubs and a small club, declarer will pick up the trumps and make the contract. But look what happens if East trumps his partner's ace of diamonds. The queen of clubs is returned. If declarer lets this ride, East returns another club and defeats the contract.

Housewife Is Arrested

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—A Bronx housewife was arrested today on a charge of homicide in the death of her husband. Police quoted the prisoner, Mrs. Margaret Dyer, 42, of 469 East 135th street, as saying she and her husband, Patrick, 35, a laborer, had been drinking at home and he left the house. Mrs. Dyer said she found him in a tavern, walked with him about a block when an argument started. Detectives said Mrs. Dyer told them she punched her husband in the stomach and he fell to the pavement. He was pronounced dead when an ambulance surgeon arrived.

'Evil Spirit' Is Cast Out of Boy; Phenomena Seen

Washington, Aug. 10 (AP)—An "evil spirit" which a Washington couple said "possessed" their 14-year-old son appeared today to have been cast out.

This information was relayed to the Society for Parapsychology by a Washington clergyman who said the family had obtained for the boy "the ritual of exorcism" from clergymen of different faiths. The minister told the society that mysterious noises, creeping furniture and violent rocking of the boy's bed were observed by the family beginning last January.

He said he took the boy to his home where he witnessed these "phenomena".

The minister on the boy's bed "vibrated." He was then placed in a chair, chair crept back against a wall and "when it couldn't move any further, it started to slip slowly, with a slow motion."

Then the boy was placed on a blanket in the middle of the floor. "The boy and the bedding slowly moved under the beds and there was no evidence of the boy's body moving."

Then last March the boy's father took him for a visit to a midwestern city. This was shortly after he told his parents that "mysterious writing" appeared on his chest saying "no school," his parents said.

During the visit, Roman Catholic priests were asked to see him. They placed a statue of St. Michael in his room. Afterwards he said he had seen "a vision of St. Michael chasing the devil away."

Clergymen of different faiths called in later gave the exorcism rituals, the minister reported, and the strange going-on stopped.

given and the society stipulated that the clergyman who gave the report was not to be identified. The society president, Richard C. Harrell, said the society was interested in this case because parapsychology "is a borderline science concerned with extra-sensory perception (such as clairvoyance and mental telepathy) and other para-normal (unusual) phenomena."

Colonials Drop Series Opener in Slugfest With Bristol Owls, 9 to 8

Four Pitchers Fail to Check League Leaders

Gomez Chokes Off Threat in Eighth

Just by way of proving that it isn't in the cards it can't be done, the Colonials cuffed Tony Sierzega of the Bristol Owls around for a dozen hits, scored eight runs and still lost last night's series opener at municipal stadium, 9 to 8.

A crowd of better than 500 saw their favorites manhandle Sierzega, who happens to be one of the three best twirlers in the league, like they owned him. But it didn't pay off, because four Kingston hurlers and seven misuses were too much handicap to grant the league leaders.

Trailing 6-0 at one stage, the Colonials rallied with three run clusters in the third and sixth and then moved to within 9-8 in the seventh.

Gomez Stops Threat
They had a big chance in the eighth but Senor Reuben Gomez, who came on in relief, stopped them cold after Allan Thomaier led off with a sharp single to left and made second on "Rebel" Rowe's momentary bobbie. Eddie McNamara's sacrifice moved Thomaier to third where he languished while Danny Perlmutter skied to short left and Danny Mahan tapped to the box.

Gomez was untouchable in the ninth, expunging Muter and Anstett on harmless pop flies and getting Al Ferony on a ground ball.

Riescher Lower
Manager Emil Gall trotted out four hurlers who operated with undistinguished success. Big Ray Riescher was clobbered out of the box in two innings, although it must be said in his behalf that two juicy errors hurt him in the Bristol three-run rally in the second. Joe Manning, a newcomer, Bill McKever and Haruki Catudul followed in that order.

Bright spot of the night was Carl Anstett's batting. The Colonial catcher smashed four sharp singles. Thomaier came up with a triple and single.

Dave Kelly, Bristol second sacker, drove in four runs with a pair of singles. La France had a double and two singles for the visitors.

Guy Coleman is scheduled to pitch tonight for Bristol, with Ted Johnson or Francisco Sastre going for the Colonials.

Channel Prevents Test

Dover, Eng. 10 (AP)—The English Channel was still acting up yesterday, preventing Shirley May France from having one long swim in the open sea before she attempts to conquer the Strait of Dover. The Somerset, Mass., high school girl, who will be 17 tomorrow, managed to get in one hour of fast strokes within the comparatively calm breakwater. But it was rough outside. On the other side of the channel, at Clip Girls Nez, France, Jose Cortinas, Cuban swimmer, called off his channel attempt, scheduled for last night, when a boat which was to accompany him, failed to arrive.

Reuses for Cards

Cincinnati (AP)—The latest bulletin from Commissioner A. B. Chandler's office shows that three more St. Louis Cardinals have been granted new contracts (raises in pay). They are Lou Klein, the former Mexican League, Vernal (Nippy) Jones and Ron Northey. Earlier this season the Cards gave raises on 1949 contracts to Howie Pollet, Al Brazie, Tom Glavinio, Hal Rice and Gerald Stanley.

The national hard court tennis championships will be decided in Berkeley, Calif., Sept. 17-25.

Royal Grill Edges Subway Grill, 6-4, for 18th Straight

Jones Dairy 'Steals' 4-3 Victory Over Merchants in Extra Innings

On the basis of 7 to 5 odds against a par-3 on the No. 3 hole at Twaalfskill Golf Club in Sunday's inter-club match, the "house" would have netted $547. The aspiring linksmen achieved only nine pars in 131 attempts. Instead of 7 to 5, the odds actually were about 14½ to 1 against the duffer. If you are among the nine who parred the hole, you are entitled to bow once from the waist.

Never have so many Twaalfskill guys tried to write the Monday morning sports headlines for us. Thanks for the offers of assistance, boys.

A NOVELETTE—He pranced up to the first tee, took a few majestic practice swings, looked around and saw the interlocking fairways. "Anybody can break 90 on this miniature golf course," he snorted contemptuously. P.S. He shot a large family size "104." (Social Note: Art Jansen had a hectic time capturing high medal honors Sunday at Twaalfskill.)

For the Figger Filberts:

Holes No. 4 and 7, admittedly the easiest to "birdie" at Twaalfskill, produced 23 birdies, eight on No. 4 and 15 on No. 7. Larry Bogart eagled the No. 4 which was lost with a birdie after driving the green. The guy is impossible. No. 5, a rather strenuous trek, was parved only 20 times. There were five birdies on No. 2 and five on No. 1, including a try by John O'Connor, Harry Le Fevre, Dr. Harold McGee, Tommy Danaher and Alex Gerlak also had 3s on the getaway hole. Danaher, incidentally, was one-up on Gerlak for 4 holes and convinced some of the skeptics that he can still play a fair round of golf. Gerlak stumbled in with a 67. Poor fellow!

Flotsam and Jetsam:

John Van Gonsle continued to hex Maurice Davenport in the inter-club. Dick Overburgh suffered something of a collapse against Joe Kwansay and it might have been due to that horrendous sport shirt that resembled a cross between the Fiji Islands and New Mexico. As usual, Wiltywek won more bulls in the sweepstakes. After they have gained revenge two weeks hence, the uptown linksmen will dine the vanquished at Lehorba. The purloins committees had the usual hectic time, but this year it bordered almost on the ridiculous. We played against the third pairing in 12 hours. The lists of names of players who sign for the annual skirmish should be airtight. Both courses could be used to good advantage to eliminate back breaking delays. It would seem simple enough to have half the foursomes at each club and then switch in morning and afternoon rounds.

Burt Haver, the Twaalfskill "chabman of pairings" is reported resting comfortably at his new home, after spending Thursday, Friday and Saturday moving to a new residence and changing the pairings every hour on the hour. Wiltywek golfers broke out in a rash of shorts. If Judge Schirick had to carry Ed Modjeska much longer he would have needed a pneumothorax. Walt Fitzgerald and Dan Shufeldt sat around with that "so you didn't think we could do it" expression on their faces after halving Bill Zwick and Lou Bruhn, a tough tandem. It was no surprise to see Roy Vogt, old ice water, come in with low medal for the amateurs. Don't ever sell this Joe Kwansay short in head to head play.

Everybody was glad to see us back from the Fiji Islands. A $200,000 kitty for that new 18-hole golf course already is in the making. (Period-end of dream.)

Where was Billy Van Akon, Claude Needles, J. W. Bailey and other Wiltywek regulars? Judge John Cushman missed the classic for the second year running. He was up in Lake Placid . . . or just about as far as he could get from Ed Tongue in the time at his disposal.

MULLIGAN MIKE: The logical explanation for a win or loss in one of these things is that one pairings committee outskicked the other. Maybe.

Saugerties Nips House of David, 11-8 Behind Rybinaker

Staving off late inning rallies by the House of David, the Saugerties A.C. outlasted the Bearded Beauties by a 11-8 count before 1,000 fans on the Saugerties diamond.

The contest was played under portable lights. Fred Davis' tossers gained their winning margin with a six-run blast in the fifth inning.

Ed Rybinaker granted only three hits but five walks and four errors helped swell the House total. The City-League ace struck out 11 batters and collected two hits.

Link Crosby with a triple and single; Joe Benjamin and Tom Carline with two singles each were the leading Saugerties hitters.

Cheap Run Decides City League Thriller

Too late to do any good this season, perhaps, the "other six teams" in the City Baseball League have discovered that the once invincible Jones Dairy nine might have an Achilles heel.

Jackie Watzka stopped them cold last week to snap their 10-game winning streak. Yesterday they were forced into an extra inning to nose out the downtrodden Colonial Merchants, 4 to 3, with two outs in the eighth.

It was Joneses' 11th win in 12 starts and the Merchants' 12th loss in 14 games.

The Dairyemen had to come from behind to tie the score 3-3 in the last of the seventh and then shoved across the winning marker in the eighth after a double play had broken the back of a Colonial threat in the top half.

"Steal" Winning Run

Johnny Schatzel's single launched the winning rally. He stole second, got to third on an error and raced home when Snyder dropped a third strike on Maines and had to make the throw to first.

Jones Dairy literally stole the game from the Merchants, racking up five thefts of record against Snyder and others that didn't make the boxscore.

Vince Clearwater permitted only five safeties but the usual half dozen errors and a flock of stolen bases ruined his performance.

Led by Vince Stoll's "4 for 4" performance, including a double, the Merchants whacked Bill Windburn for 10 safeties and roughed up the veteran right-hander as vigorously as any team this season. Slover and Trice also had two hits.

Don "Flash" Koeppen, Merchant third sacker, got into the act by stealing home in the second inning. He received a gallon of ice cream donated by Johnny's Drive-In.

Lady Bullfighter Is Back From Spain

New York, Aug. 9 (AP)—New York's would-be lady bullfighter returned from Spain today, still enthusiastic in spite of rude contact in the bull ring.

Instead of a pair of ears—bullfighting's victory symbol—young Mrs. Edith Laurie-Enlin brought home a couple of sore spots where a young bull scored a point for Spain.

"But that's all right," she said. "You've got to learn sometime. I was so busy watching my footwork I forgot to look at the bull."

He was only a small practice bull with two to three inch horns, but he caught the 21-year-old American in the left flank and sent her sprawling.

She took her lessons on the bull farm of Matador Isidro Marin, who admired her spirit but said she had a lot to learn before she goes after a bull with a sword.

Before she takes any more lessons, though, she plans to do some propaganda work for bullfighting in the United States.

"Of course you'll never persuade people to let the bulls be killed—although it's no worse than fox hunting," she said.

"But I want to see if we can start the Portuguese style of fighting in Florida this winter."

Under the Portuguese rules, the matador baits the bull but doesn't kill it. To be fair all around, the bull has padded horns.

Lanesville Hurler Blanks Stauble's

Bud Smith pitched hitless ball for eight innings as the Lanesville A. C. blanked Stauble's Bakery of the City Twilight League, 9 to 0, Sunday on the Lanesville diamond.

Brown and Slight delivered ninth inning singles to shatter Smith's bid for a no-hitter. He fanned 10 men and walked a pair.

Lanesville nudged Acker and Long for seven hits, including a homer by Bell and triples by Bell and Breithaupt. A six-run blast in the third inning decided the game. Lings pitched two-hit ball in five innings of relief for Stauble.

Lanesville meets Frank's Sport Shop next Sunday. Other games on the schedule are with the Poughkeepsie Colored Giants on Aug. 21; Albany Hoboes, Aug. 28; and Tenady, N. J., on Sept. 4-5.

Teams wishing to play Lanesville after Labor Day are requested to write a note to Paul Schmiedel, Hasbrouck avenue, Kingston.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Tri-Mount Features

The weekly water carnival at Camp Tri-Mount last Saturday was the finest yet staged at the Boy Scout summer camp, with two camp records being broken in swimming events and several other exciting finishes being chalked up.

Scout Howard Schor of Troop 29, Ellenville, established a new 25-yard freestyle swim mark of 14 seconds and Clark Peloubet of Troop 40, Wallkill, set a new mark of 15 seconds in the 25-yard breaststroke race. Both of these new marks bettered the old records by a full second. Final score of the carnival was Iroquois village 47 points to 34 for the Mohican village.

The Iroquois won 25-yard freestyle, the rowboat relay, hand paddle boat race, 25-yard backstroke, 75-yard relay swim, canoe, filling, rapid disrobing. Mohicans captured the watermelon scramble, hand paddle canoe race, boat block race, 25-yard backstroke.

Tributes Are Paid To Herbert Hoover

On 75th Birthday

Stanford University, Calif., Aug. 10 (AP)—Herbert Clark Hoover is 75 years old today, and tributes for the country's only living ex-president poured in from all over the world.

Late today Stanford University will honor its most illustrious graduate in the Frost Amphitheatre. A crowd of 12,000 to 14,000 was expected.

The program will be climaxed by a major address by Hoover, beginning at 5 p. m., P.S.T. His topic will be "Think of the next generation."

Even Mr. Hoover, who once said "I have had every honor to which any man could aspire," probably was surprised by the stir created by his birthday anniversary and by the congratulatory letters by the thousands.

Two states, Arkansas and Maryland, proclaimed today "Hoover Day." Governor Earl Warren of California issued a proclamation in which he said: "Few men anywhere have lived more useful lives, and none with greater devotion, both at home and throughout the world."

Duke Studies Bring Theory Sex May Be Pre-Determined

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)
Durham, N. C. (AP) — Scientific evidence that Mr. and Mrs. may be able to choose between having a boy or a girl baby has been found in the Duke University Department of Surgery.

The choice has nothing to do with surgery, and is something everyone can try without annoyance. The choice is not certain, but in the Duke studies the percentage is slightly over 25 in favor of having the sex you want.

A difficult part of the trick is for a woman to know for sure her fertile period, which is a matter of two or three days only, once a month.

In the Duke studies, conceptions in the early part of the fertile period favor female births.
Conception late in the period seem to show a preponderance of males.

The Duke studies were made by Doctors Beryl Hart and James D.
Moody, and are reported in the Annals of Surgery, a Philadelphia medical publication.

Facts of Decade
The idea comes from a number of facts collected by medical scientists in the last decade. One is the surprising results of 9,489 artificial inseminations. The unusual ratio in human sex is 105 males to 100 females. But in these inseminations there were 5,676 males. This, says the Annals article, is a 48 per cent increase in males over the theoretically expected number. In artificial insemination, fairly exact knowledge of the fertile period is essential. Whether this series might have been due to luck, Drs. Hart and Moody do not say. They cite it as a possible result of timing.

The series was reported by Doctors Francis F. Seymour and Alfred Koerner in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The Duke evidence is both animal and human. Rats were bred with the timing carefully regulated. It is easier to know a rat's fertile period. The normal ratio of male rats was increased by late insemination by percentages varying from 149 to 256. At the most, more than twice as many males as females were born.

Made on 65,000 Twins
The human studies were made on 65,000 pairs of dizygotic twins, which means twins from separate ova. These twins can be either two girls, two boys or a boy and a girl.

Under the usual sex ratios of human beings, there would be about as many boys as girls among these twins.

But the normal ratio didn't work. In 59 per cent of these twin-nings, both babies were the same sex. This seems to bear out the idea that more early conceptions are female, and more, late are male.

"We plan," says the report, "to undertake similar experiments on other laboratory animals, and particularly cattle."

"We also feel that the time has arrived to apply to humans, in selected cases, the information so far obtained. Preparations for this are already under way."

The Duke doctors say there are several possible explanations. They make the guess that the reason is in the male sperm.

It is known that in humans
there are two types of male sperm.
And it also is known that one type fertilizing an ovum will result in a boy baby, while the other type produces a girl. On this basis alone the division between boys and girls should be about 50-50, which is the fact.

The Duke doctors say it is easier to attribute the apparent time difference in sex to differences in the ability of the two kinds of sperm to move rapidly, differences in their lengths of life and differences in their aggressiveness.

Guardsmen Continue Pine Camp Maneuvers

Pine Camp, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)— National Guardsmen continued field maneuvers today as a forest fire that had charred 10 square miles of this military reservation burned itself out.

Troops of Pine Camp's permanent garrison stood by to guard against a new outbreak, relieving the guardsmen from fire fighting duty.

Nearly 10,000 troops of the 27th Division were in bivouac areas for three days of training under mock battle conditions.

Friday, the guardsmen will stage the first full division revue since it paraded on Espirito Santo Island in the Pacific just prior to joining the battle of Okinawa.

The division's commander, Maj.
Gen. Ronald C. Brock of Buffalo, will conduct the revue.

A small brush fire broke out yesterday in the bivouac area of the 174th Infantry from Buffalo and forced between 500 and 600 men to move their camping site.
The fire caused no damage.

The larger fire, which started Sunday near the camp's infantry combat range, caused little if any financial loss, an army spokesman said. No one was hurt.

Dies of Starvation
Portland, Ore., Aug. 10 (AP)—A 15-day ordeal in a mountain wilderness proved fatal last night to 76-year-old John Harrison Tracy.
He succumbed to starvation and exposure after being lost almost two weeks, the St. Vincent Hospital reported. Rescuers found Tracy on Mt. Hood Monday, lying in a hut and too feeble to move.
He had disappeared on a search for gold.

10,000 Polio Cases Reported in Nation

New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—
About 10,000 cases of infantile paralysis are reported in the country—with 36 states having more cases now than they had at this time last year.
The figures were given yesterday by Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The states most in need of help, Van Riper said, are Arkansas, with 490 cases as of July 30, and Oklahoma, with 521 cases.

67 Polio Deaths Counted in State

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—
New York today counted 67 deaths from infantile paralysis so far this year and a total of 1,050
cases.

Four new deaths were reported yesterday. Two were in New York city, one in South Glens Falls, Saratoga county, and the other in Buffalo. The State Health Department listed 101 new cases, 68 of them in New York city.

About two-thirds of the deaths and the cases reported were in New York city. The city health department terms it a "mild epidemic."

Meanwhile, the health officer at Fallsdale Interstate Park moved to prevent spread of the disease in summer camps by advising parents, friends and relatives to stay away from the area, where 7,500 youngsters are camped.

Dr. L. D. McMenamin said five new cases of polio were reported this week among children who had just returned to the metropolitan area from camps in the Bear Mountain section. Only two other campers in the parks have been stricken this summer.

Lehman Candidacy Sought
New York, Aug. 10 (AP)—New appeals to get ex-Gov. Herbert H.
Lehman to run for the U. S. Senate this fall were being made today — over the name of Rep.
Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. (D-N.Y.).

Roosevelt is honorary chairman of a new committee formed to draft Lehman. So far, Lehman, a Democrat, hasn't said yes or no. He interrupted a Lake Placid, N. Y., vacation yesterday to spend two days here on personal business. But he would say nothing about his possible candidacy.
Numerous Democratic leaders and the Liberal party have urged Lehman to make the race.

Seasonal Activity Aids Employment

Seasonal farm, hotel and resort activity in this area has offset the effects of the generally reported growth of unemployment with the result that activity at the local office of the New York State Employment Service during the month of July was about "normal," the monthly Department of Labor report disclosed today.

In July, the Kingston office of the Employment Service placed a total of 409 persons, of whom 240 were given agricultural jobs. Of the total persons placed, 93 were women and 38 were war veterans, according to the Department of Labor's figures.

There were 190 new applications for jobs received during the month, including 70 from women, 21 from veterans and two from handicapped workers.

All phases of activity at the local office were "about average" compared with the preceding three months, according to George J. Stanton, manager. The Kingston office at 243 Fair street serves all of Ulster county except the towns of Lloyd, Marlborough, Plattkill and Shawangunk.

Bitten by Dog
Police were notified at 4:45
p. m. Tuesday that Frank Rouger, 8, of 278 North street, was bitten on the left arm and hip by a dog on North street.

Cline Returns Home
Police were notified at 4:40
p. m. yesterday that Sanford Cline, 80, of Russell street, who was reported missing August 3, had returned home last Sunday.

Haigh Is Hanged
London, Aug. 10 (AP)—John George Haigh, self-confessed vampire slayer of nine Britons, was hanged today at Wandsworth prison. The handsome, 39-year-old business executive was convicted July 19 of murdering a well-to-do widow, Mrs. Olivia Durand-Deacon, 69, for her money. A jury rejected a defense plea of insanity and sentenced Haigh to death. At his two-day trial, the prosecution introduced a statement in which Haigh confessed to police that he killed eight other persons besides Mrs. Durand-Deacon and drank their blood. Then, he said he dissolved the bodies in bubbling acid baths. The dapper killer did not testify in his own defense.

Some Japanese say that their practice of counting a baby as one year old at birth is based on the idea that life begins at conception.
